

Abstract of the Disclosure

An appliance determines its location, and may determine whether it has moved a distance or to a location which does not meet a local policy guideline. It may notify a central agency of such move, and the central agency may determine whether the move does not meet a remote policy guideline. The central agency may notify law enforcement. The appliance or the central agency may require a re-authentication of the user, and may disable the appliance.

FOIA b 7 - D